“It is essential that developers, property owners, and their legal representatives, understand the unique roles of the various municipal bodies and their statutory responsibilities under the PA Municipalities Planning Code and other statutes. At Nauman Smith, we offer broad experience in the representation of the municipal bodies and developers appearing before them to be able to effectively handle all issues that may arise during the land development process.” - Steve Feinour

150 YEARS OF COMMITMENT TO LOCAL COMMUNITIES

MUNICIPAL LAW AT NAUMAN SMITH

Nauman Smith provides advice and other legal services to municipalities in central Pennsylvania. We serve as solicitors and/or special counsel to townships, boroughs, collection bureaus, and zoning hearing boards. Our municipal work requires a close collaborative relationship with public officials who grapple with the challenges constantly facing local governments in Pennsylvania. For municipal lawyers, such working relationships are sustained through great attention to detail and timely performance - hallmarks of Nauman Smith’s professional credo.

We regularly handle land development and zoning issues, drafting of ordinances and resolutions, contracts review, procurement issues, and complicated real estate and tax issues.

The attorneys at Nauman Smith regularly attend municipal meetings and commit themselves to keeping abreast of developments in municipal law.

We are considered statewide authorities on the subject matter and routinely make presentations to groups including the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors and the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs.

The needs of our many clients place us on the cutting edge of topical municipal law matters such as the Right-to-Know Law and the Sunshine Act. We also help municipalities address problems with aging infrastructure and regulatory compliance, a concern to all Pennsylvanians.

When it comes to municipal law, Nauman Smith is ready to offer insightful guidance and timely service.
